ENORMOUS WAR PROFITS MADE BY EVERYBODY

Canners, Packers and Millers Stand at Head of Food Profit.

BUSINESS BIG AND LITTLE HAS USED WAR TO BENEFIT

Thousands of Concerns Made Profits From 100 To 300 Per Cent.

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Aug. 17.—War profiteers in 1917 were most numerous in businesses devoted to food production and distribution, cotton and woolen manufacturing and dealing, coal mining, iron and copper, aluminum and other metal production and oil production and distribution, according to a treasury analysis of income tax returns.

In addition thousands of small concerns in a great variety of industrial and commercial classifications made profits ranging from 100 to 300 per cent above their normal profits for pre-war years which even then were considered high.

Detailed information on the extent of war profiteering has been given congress recently in compliance with a resolution requesting it and the federal trade commission is understood to have obtained considerable information from the income reports in preparation of its criticism of the meat packing industry.

In citing certain industry or commerce classifications as containing the largest percentage of profiteers, the treasury has made it clear that not all individual businesses in this group have gathered in swollen earnings.

This is true particularly of coal operators, some of whom made enormous profits, often several hundred per cent; higher than good earnings of former years, while others made barely enough to pay just their dividends.

With few exceptions manufacturers of clothing and shoes reported big profits. This was true of most concerns holding government contracts, many of which were let early in the war when the government felt to stimulate production of the vast quantities of supplies needed by the army. Scores of income reports from suits, shirt, underclothing and shoe manufacturers showed earnings of from 20 to 100 per cent in invested capital.

Lumber production stimulated by the sudden enormous demand from cantonments and other government operations netted forest and sawmill owners as well as distributors profits several times above those of normal years.

Oil-producers made enormous profits which they claimed justified by the rapid depreciation of properties and the extra financial hazard of their business.

Despite high cost of labor and other factors entering into mining the treasury analysis shows that very few iron, copper or aluminum mines failed to make tremendous profits for their owners under the government policy of stimulating production. Producers of silver, gold, platinum and other precious metals profited to a lesser extent. Automobile and motor truck manufacturing was highly profitable, although income returns show that earnings of different plants were far from uniform, some making as high as 50 per cent on investments, and others less than 10 per cent.

Meat-packers, flour millers and canners apparently stood at the top of the list of food profit-takers, according to income returns. Farmers also made money heavily last year, but not enough of their returns have been analyzed to justify a general

PROPERTY SEIZED; KRUEGER CANNOT LEAVE GERMANY

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, Aug. 17.—The estate of Gottfried Krueger of Newark, N. J., valued at several million dollars, was taken over today by the alien property custodian. An announcement at the custodian's office here said that although Mr. Krueger is an American citizen he is classed as an enemy because of his residence in Germany.

Mr. Krueger's properties, it was stated, include the United States Brewing company, the Lyon & Sons' Brewing company, and large interests in the Union Brewing company and the Home Brewing company, all of Newark. Large holdings in several New Jersey realty concerns also were taken over.

The seizure was made under a provision of the trading-with-the-enemy act which rates a naturalized citizen resident in an enemy country as an enemy.

Before the outbreak of the European war Mr. Krueger, who is more than 80 years old, went to Germany for his health. His repeated attempts, since the declaration of American belligerency to return to this country have been unsuccessful.

AIRPLANES LEAVE COLUMBUS TODAY FOR CLEVELAND

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Aug. 17.—Seven airplanes which yesterday thrilled Columbus citizens and which are a part of the "flying circus" left Columbus at 9 o'clock this morning for Cleveland, piloted by British and American aviators. Two more planes were expected to leave at 10:30 o'clock.

SELL FRENCH CHATEAUX. Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 17.—Under forced conditions and at nominal prices, the Germans are selling many beautiful French chateaux and homes in Alsace.

KAISER OSTRACIZES AMBASSADOR WHO BLAMES GERMANY

Washington, Aug. 17.—The German emperor has given his sanction to the decision of the Prussian house of lords in voting to expel Prince Lichnowsky, German ambassador to England at the outbreak of the war, who in a series of memoirs has declared that the war cannot be laid at the door of Great Britain, France and Russia, but was the direct outgrowth of carefully laid plans of the German militaristic ruling class, according to a dispatch received here today. The former ambassador by the decision loses his seat in the Prussian house. He is now reported to be living in Scotland.

RECONSTRUCTION OF NEW "EASTERN FRONT" IN RUSSIA GOES RAPIDLY FORWARD

Events of the day in Russia indicate that the allies purpose to establish a new eastern front in that country. Lines of strategic battlefronts which can be quickly established in Russia are indicated by the letters A and B. Allied forces are now operating on the shores of Onega bay, 100 miles southwest of Archangel and on the railroad, 100 miles south of that city (1). Bolshevik forces are evacuating Moscow (2). British forces from northwestern Persia have reached Baku (3) on the Caspian sea. American troops are disembarking at Vladivostok (4) and will join the Cecho-Slovak army in its campaign against the Bolsheviks in Siberia.

REPORT GERMANS HAVE SEIZED THE KRONSTADT PORT

Paris, Aug. 17.—(Havas Agency) —Reports are in circulation in Finland that the Germans have seized the Russian naval port of Kronstadt, according to a Stockholm dispatch to La Matin.

Kronstadt is 20 miles west of Petrograd, at the eastern extremity of the Gulf of Finland. It was the principal fortress of Russia. Reports received through Germany early in the week were to the effect that Premier Lennine and War Minister Trotsky had fled to Kronstadt from Moscow. It was added that other departments of the Soviet government also would go there.

FUNERAL SERVICE OF BRITISH AVIATOR HELD WITH HONOR

(Associated Press Telegram) Cincinnati, Aug. 17.—Cincinnati mourned today and in mourning paid homage to the memory of Captain James Fitzmorris, British royal flying corps, who met death when his airplane crashed to the ground here last Wednesday.

This afternoon the coffin containing the body, draped with flags of the allied nations and mounted upon the caisson of a fieldgun, will lead a procession through Cincinnati's downtown streets. The procession will be made up of every branch of the military and naval service as well as of all branches of the city, county, state and government service in this city.

Funeral services will be held when the procession reaches Memorial hall and then proceeds on to Spring Grove cemetery when the body will be placed in the vault until the dead man's relatives in Scotland are heard from.

25 MORE MEN WANTED IN THE LIMITED RESERVE

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Aug. 17.—Provost General Marshall Crowder issued a call today for 250 men for limited service in the military aeronautics division of the army. The men will mobilize at Madison barracks, Sackett Harbor, N. Y., on Aug. 29, coming from eighteen states. Ohio's quota is 25.

NOW 1,450,000 U. S. SOLDIERS OVERSEAS, INCLUDING THOSE IN FRANCE, ITALY AND SIBERIA

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Aug. 17.—The battle now going on in Picardy was formally characterized as the German retreat today by General March, chief of staff, in his semi-weekly conference with newspaper men, at which he disclosed that American troops embarked overseas now number more than 1,450,000.

While he made no predictions and did not discuss the significance of any move on the front, General March took occasion to point out that the Germans have voluntarily surrendered ground in local salients four separate times since the Picardy attack was launched by General Foch.

It was evident that these withdrawals, coupled with other information contained in official advices from General Pershing have created here the impression that a general enemy retirement on a wide front is to be expected.

Taking up American war plans General March formally reiterated the purpose to get 80 divisions of troops into France by June 30, 1919. Discussing conditions with members of the senate military committee earlier in the day, General March had said there was a steady increase both in numbers and efficiency in the transport service insuring accelerated troop movements.

The total embarkation of American troops now announced includes men sent to Italy and Siberia, as well as to France. Hereafter total figures for embarkation will include all expeditionary forces wherever sent.

General March would not talk figures on army plans outside of his statement regarding 80 divisions. It was evident, however, that he has complete confidence in the ability of the war department to execute its plans ahead of schedule. He had said previously that for purposes of calculation a division represented a total of 40,000 men.

More than 1,450,000 American soldiers have embarked from the United States, General March, chief of staff, said today. This includes men sent to Italy and Siberia as well as to France.

General March was talking to newspaper correspondents in his semi-weekly conference. He said official reports through the Spanish embassy gave no evidence that American prisoners in Germany are singled out for mistreatment as has been reported. Very detailed reports including the daily menus are received and show that the question of the treatment of prisoners has largely become standardized.

Discussing the battle situation in France, the chief-of-staff drew attention to the fact that the Germans have now voluntarily surrendered portions of their lines at four different places. He placed no construction of his own on this, but it was taken as an indication of an expected further withdrawal by the enemy. In a general way the lines generally are stabilized on a front closely following 1916-1917 positions in Picardy and along the Aisne-Vesle line to the south.

Speaking of the American program General March said it is proposed to put 30 divisions into France by June 30, 1919, if it is possible to do so, as shown in the senate military

AVIATOR KILLED IN UNEQUAL FIGHT WITH HUN AIRMEN

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, Aug. 17.—Sergeant William McKerness of Wallingford, Conn., attached to the Lafayette escadrille was killed in a fight with eight enemy airplanes on Thursday, according to the Paris edition of the Chicago Tribune. The sergeant was flying with a French pilot and their machine was accompanied by two French airplanes. Eight German machines appeared and the French airplanes boldly attacked them. They kept up the unequal fight until the machine in which McKerness was flying crashed to the ground in flames.

The bodies of McKerness and the French pilot were picked up within the French lines.

PURITY ZONE IS ESTABLISHED FOR CHILLICOTHE CAMP

(Associated Press Telegram) Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Aug. 17.—Secretary of War Baker's recent order fixing a ten mile "purity zone" about American army cantonments officially went into effect at Camp Sherman yesterday, when Major General Harry C. Hale, commandant issued a ruling that the order be strictly enforced here.

It forbids the operation of any disorderly houses within ten miles of the camp and also fixes punishment for violation. A punishment of not more than one year in prison and a fine of not more than $1,000 is provided.

The order has generally been in force here, military authorities said, following its approval July 9, in Washington. Prior to that time a five-mile purity zone had been established. The new order includes the city of Chillicothe and several other small towns near this camp. The ruling also fixes a punishment for soldiers caught in houses of prostitution.

SABOTAGE IS REDUCED NOW TO ALMOST NOTHING

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Aug. 17.—Ten months ago the principal activity of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice was the running down of enemy agents. Today, records show, German propaganda and sabotage has decreased to almost nothing, but the secret agents work in gathering evidence against war profiteers who are American citizens has increased manifold.

HEAVY ARTILLERY FIRING DURING THE NIGHT DOES NOT KEEP FRENCH FROM ADVANCING. REACH OUTSKIRTS OF LOGES WOOD.

ENEMY PUSHED BACK ALONG A FRONT OF NINE MILES NORTH AND SOUTH OF THE AVRE RIVER

Advance May Enable the French to Outflank Both Roye and Lassigny and Force the Germans to Readjust Their Lines Eastward Toward Noyon and Probably Beyond. British Repulse Attack on Damery and Take Number of Prisoners—Artillery Duel Still Raging on the Main Battle Front Between the Ancre and the Oise.

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, Aug. 17.—In the region south of Roye French troops have made further progress in the Loges wood and have reached the outskirts of the wood on the east, says the official statement from the war office today.

There was heavy artillery fighting west of Roye during the night. Northwest of Ribecourt the French have repulsed two strong German attacks. The enemy efforts were directed against the Monolith and Carney farms. A German raid northwest of Rheims failed. The statement reads:

"In the region west of Roye there was heavy artillery activity during the night."

"South of the Avre French troops continued to make progress in the Bois des Loges and reached the eastern outskirts of the wood."

"Between the Matz and the Oise we repulsed two heavy enemy attacks against Monolith and Carney farms and maintained our positions."

"Northwest of Rheims an enemy raid near La Neuville was without results."

BRITISH PUSH LINES EASTWARD

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Aug. 17.—In Picardy British troops have made additional progress, says Field Marshal Haig in his official statement today. The British lines have been pushed eastward north of the Amiens-Roye road and north of the Ancre.

British troops have also gained ground in the neighborhood of Vieux Berquin, at the apex of the Lys salient.

The text of the statement reads:

"The pressure of our troops north of the Roye road and north of the Ancre continued and progress has been made by us in both sectors."

"In the neighborhood of Vieux Berquin our patrols had sharp fighting yesterday and further encounters took place during last night. Our troops made progress in this sector and in the neighborhood of Merris and have taken prisoners."

"The hostile artillery has shown considerable activity about Mount Rouge and Scherpenberg and in the vicinity of Zillbeke Lake."

GERMAN BASE THREATENED

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches.) Roye, the central bastion of the German defense line from Peronne to Noyon which has withstood allied thrusts for nearly a week is menaced seriously by advancing French, British and Canadian troops and its fall would appear to be a probability of the next few hours.

With the town in allied hands the southern end of the German line at least undoubtedly would have to retire, although the northern end through Chaulnes to Peronne also would be affected. The allies are now but a scant one and one quarter miles west of the town while they are pressing eastward in the north and in the south.

Along a front of nearly nine miles north and south of the Avre which flows through Roye the allies have pushed back the enemy in stubborn fighting. The most notable advance was made on a front of three miles in the center by French and Canadian troops who now are fighting on a line through Goyencourt, St. Marles Trio and Laucourt.

St. Marles is west of Roye and there are no villages in the intervening mile and a quarter.

French troops on the south have forced their way almost through the Loges wood which borders the Roye-Lassigny road on the west. The wood is five miles directly south of Roye and it would appear that a further advance might enable the French to outflank both Roye and Lassigny and force the Germans to readjust their lines eastward toward Noyon and probably beyond. North of Goyencourt, British forces, after having repulsed an enemy attack on Damery in which 250 prisoners were captured, are pushing eastward with French units toward Fransart and Fresnoy-Les-Royes.

Artillery activity continues on the remaining sectors of the main battle front between the Ancre and the Oise. The British on the northern end and the French on the south maintain their newly gained positions.

Berlin reports officially that allied attacks on both sides of the Avre on Friday failed. The German war office has nothing to say of the withdrawals in the Lys salient and along the Ancre. Admission of the loss of Attiche farm, southwest of Noyon, to the French is made, but it is said that six French attacks against Lassigny on Thursday were repulsed.

American and French troops along the Vesle have undergone an attack in which the Germans used gas, artillery and bombing aviators. This attack followed an incursion by American aviators who heavily bombed German bridges over the Aisne and discovered enemy artillery and machine gun nests. Three German airplanes were brought down by American airmen Thursday. British and French airmen on the same day put 32 enemy machines out of action, while Berlin reports the destruction of 24 allied airplanes.

Italian troops, in the Tonalé region, northwest of Lake Garda and along the southern Piave have withstood Austrian attacks against their new positions on three sectors. Otherwise the situation is unchanged in northern Italy. Spain, which recently sent another note to Germany protesting against the destruction of Spanish merchantmen by submarines, is reported to have notified Berlin that hereafter the Spanish government will make up losses sustained through U. S. boats by seizing German shipping in Spanish harbors. Ninety German vessels have

PARIS PAPER SAYS GERMANS PREPARE TO LEAVE SALIENT

Paris, Aug. 17 (Havas agency)—The Germans are preparing to evacuate the Roye-Lassigny-Noyon salient says the Echo de Paris. It is indicated, the paper adds, that German pioneers and laborers are at work behind the German front lines on a new Hindenburg line.

The German position in Roye is serious. Not only are the allies a mile and one quarter west of the town, but the roads leading out of it toward Peronne, Nesle and Noyon are under the fire of allied guns.

FARMERS COMPLAIN OF INCREASED FREIGHT RATES ON GRAIN

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Aug. 17.—Increased freight rates on corn, oats, rye and barley, granted by Director General McAdoo in his 25 per cent advance order of June 25 last, were attacked today by the National Council of Farmers co-operative association, in a complaint filed today with the interstate commerce commission asking that the old rates be re-established.

THIS WEEK'S SALE OF WAR STAMPS REACHED $57,325

With the exception of the week of July 4th when $83,441 worth of War Savings Stamps were sold, this week's sale of W. S. S. in Licking county was the largest of the year. This week's cash sales amounted to $57,325 making a grand total of $846,514.

Postmaster Geach reports $3,155 from Granville, the other postoffices of the county, Newark included, report $14,604 and the banks had sales aggregating $39,566.

At the time these figures were tabulated no report had been received from the Alexandria, Kirtsville or Johnstown banks. Granville's bank report is included in the post-office figures from Granville. Here are the bank's sales of stamps for the week ending August 15th.

Franklin National Bank	$ 9,457
Park National Bank	1,368
First National Bank	3,131
First National of Utica	4,438
Croton Bank	3,336
Hebron Bank	1,647
Licking County Bank	4,839
Newark Trust Company	5,872
Peoples Bank, Pataskala	218
Pataskala Banking Co.	2,141
Utica Savings Bank	64
Citizens Bank, Johnstown	2,769
Farmers Bank, Utica	59
Total Bank Sales for week	$39,566

The sale of stamps amounting to $846,514 leaves a balance of $389,666 to put Licking county over the top. The per capita sale in this county is $13.87. The quota per capita is $20. Five Ohio counties to date have sold more than $20 per capita. They are Ashland, Morrow, Morgan, Knox, and Highland. The success of this week's sale is due to the good work of the Licking County War Works solicitors last week.

An error was made yesterday in announcing the membership in the Licking County Thousand Dollar War Savings Society. It was 529 instead of 629. New members today are R. E. Booth of Granville street and Dwight Williams, the tailor. Mr. Williams' partner Thomas Tabler is also a member of the Limit Club.

If everybody in Licking county would buy just one more War Savings Stamp it would almost put Licking "over the top."

The Licking county "Victory List" (buyers of 200 W. S. S.) now numbers 331. It is the largest Limit Club in Ohio with one exception up to the present time.

August War Savings Stamp pledges are now due and payable at the bank or postoffice, specified upon the pledge card. With the exception of some of the village banks and postoffices the pledge cards are now distributed and the remaining cards will be distributed soon. A few hundred cards arrived this morning, part for the city and part for the country districts and they will be classified and distributed promptly.

"VICTORY LIST" 200 STAMP BUYERS NOW NUMBERS 537

The Licking County Victory List now numbers 537. New members are:

Washington, Aug. 17.—The war industries board has declined to grant priority to the manufacturers of cotton gins for iron, steel and fuel for the manufacture of new gins, and has reached an agreement with the manufacturers to substantially curtail their normal production of gins for the year ending June 30, 1919.

ENORMOUS

Profiteering was by no means confined to big business interests. Small scale producers in thousands of cases reported profits equal to the aggregate of from five to ten years earnings before the United States entered the war.

More than 300 clerks of the internal revenue bureau have been employed in tabulating income returns for the last six weeks, and transmitting these in weekly or by weekly installments to the senate, where the reports now are being prepared.

CONSUL GEN. POOLE WILL REMAIN IN CITY OF MOSCOW

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 17.—Capture of Irkutsk, the important Lake Baikal port of the trans-Siberian railroad by the Czech-Slovak army on July 7, is announced in a belated dispatch from American consul Harris at Irkutsk, dated July 22 and received today at the state department.

American Consul General Poole at Moscow, who recently burned his code book and turned the consulate over to the Swedish consul, notified the state department in a telegram received today that he intended to remain in Moscow to assist the French and British consular officers there who are in great personal danger.

The consul general reported that with the aid of the Swedish representative he had succeeded in securing the release of several hundred entente citizens, chiefly British and French, who were arrested by the Bolsheviks and held as hostages for soviet members imprisoned in the north.

About 90 of these civilians were still in custody. Mr. Poole said he had been able to ameliorate their situation. Mr. Poole reported also that the Japanese consul has left Moscow under pledge of safe conduct and Mr. Poole said he too might have left with similar promise but that he considered it his duty to remain. The Japanese representative will make a complete report of conditions in Moscow to the allied nations.

Members of the international Red Cross, including several Americans, are doing excellent work in Moscow, the consul general reported and are receiving adequate protection at present. They are greatly assisted by members of the Y. M. C. A. who are afforded protection.

JAPAN TO SEND TROOPS TO TORON ON MANCHURIA

Tokio, Tuesday, Aug. 13.—The government today issued a statement announcing that under the agreement with China, in view of the danger threatening the border of Manchuria, Japan was despatching troops thence from Manchuria.

I. W. W. CASE GOES TO JURY TODAY.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Aug. 17.—The I. W. W. case which has lasted more than three months was given to the jury today. Attorney Frank K. Nebeker, for the government, concluded his argument in an hour and Attorney George F. Vanderveer, defense, surprised spectators by making none at all.

Comb Old Toilet Adjunct.
Combs have been used in the toilet since very ancient times. The Greek, Egyptian and the Roman ladies used them to arrange and hold up their hair; even ladies among the Swiss lake-dwellers seem to have been familiar with them. Some of these were made of wood, some of bone, of horn or of ivory. Specimens have often been found in recent years.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. J. J. CARROLL THIS MORNING

Mrs. John J. Carroll died this morning at her home in Hudson avenue. Although she has been ailing for the past two years her sudden taking off comes as a great shock to the many who knew and loved her.

Her disposition was always happy and kindly. A smile and a pleasant word for all who came into her life, made friends for her everywhere.

Especially were her courage and spirit tried during the last two years, when sickness and suffering were endured uncomplainingly. Never were her troubles put upon the shoulders of others, nor would she allow an opportunity to pass without an effort to cheer and help those who needed it.

A Christian, devoted to her church, patriotic in the highest meaning of the word, a loving and dutiful wife, true and loyal to her friends and charitable to all the world, she has built a monument not made with hands which will stand in the hearts and memories of all who really knew her.

It is some slight consolation that death came to her without pain, apparently while she slept.

Mary Isabel Carroll was born in Columbus, O. in 1866. Her father was the late James Cooney. Beside her husband, John J. Carroll, two brothers survive here—Wm. J. Cooney of Flint, Mich., and Walter Cooney of Lima, O.

The funeral will take place at the St. Francis de Sales church at 9:30 o'clock, Monday, August 19.

since he entered the army only a few months ago.

Formerly Dr. DeCrow attended the officers' training camp at Ft. Benjamin Harrison where he was commissioned a first lieutenant. He was then sent to Camp Wheeler, Macon, Ga., and later to Camp Colt, Gettysburg, Pa., where he was commissioned captain, and more lately major. Major DeCrow's wife and little daughter are now visiting him. He is stationed at the base hospital at Camp Colt.

Fire Apparatus Kept at Work.
To be really efficient a piece of machinery should be at some useful labor all the time, but this has not been arranged satisfactorily in the case of a fire engine. The latter is standing idle the greater part of its life, so, with the idea of overcoming this wasteful condition, the idea has been conceived of combining the fire engine and the street sprinkler. This opens up an almost constant field of operation for the apparatus. During all the time when there is no demand for its services in quenching fires, the apparatus may be engaged in the useful occupation of settling the dust on the thoroughfares in the vicinity of its station.—Philadelphia Record.

Substitute for Teeth.
Progress in dental science clearly indicates that we shall be enabled to substitute food in old age more readily than our forefathers could, says the Popular Science Monthly. Inventors are attacking the problem in various ways, and in some recent experiments the attempt is made to imitate nature by placing the upper and lower mouth plates in the manner shown. A coiled spring within the hinge separates the plates when the mouth is opened. Provision is made also for the slide movement of the lower plate by employing a horizontal hinge. This takes care of the usual grinding process in eating.

A New Dodge.
To a Natal Kaffir belongs the credit of inventing a labor-saving device for chimney cleaning. One of the colony journals says: "A native in Weenen had been asked to sweep a chimney, which he undertook to do. Later he was seen mounting the ladder he used for the purpose with a couple of fowls under his arm. These he allowed to flutter down the flue, and the job was done."

FRENCH THIRD ARMY HOPES "TO DO BETTER."
(Associated Press Telegram)

With the French Army in France, Thursday, Aug. 15.—The commander of the French third army, General Humbert, on receiving the correspondents just after the German rush toward Compiegne had been stopped in June, said:

"We hope to do better." General Humbert talked to the correspondents again today after the capture of Ribecourt. He modestly refrained from references to his previously expressed hopes, saying simply that he had got back on the Lassigny massif and would stay there until he went farther on. He described graphically the work of his men.

The operations of the Third army which resulted in the wiping out of the Montdidier salient, was subordinate to the attack of Field Marshal Haig's forces north and south of the Somme. It was impossible for the Third army to attack until the operations elsewhere had produced results as there were serious terrain difficulties facing it.

As soon as the Germans began to give way before the combined French and British forces, the third army began to advance on August 10.

CANADIANS ADMIT WONDERS OF TANKS.

With the Canadian Forces in French, Friday, Aug. 16 (By Canadian Press).—All ranks of the Canadian force freely admit the great part played in the victory by the imperial tanks operating under the command of the Canadian forces. They have done wonders in overwhelming the enemy trench system, breaking up machine gun nests and even coming to grips with concealed enemy batteries. Among them too occasionally crop out the humors of war that alone make it endurable.

One tank was standing on Thursday last week at the limit of its objective. "Why the devil don't you go on? You are badly needed ahead," cried an excited staff officer as he galloped up.

"No petrol and no paper, sir," was the reply. "What on earth do you need paper for?" queried the officer. "We have run right through our map and want a new one for the most part," was the explanation given.

BUSY SLATE IN POLICE COURT

Last night at 9 o'clock the police broke up a party back of the cemetery and took in tow Emma Davis, Carrie Meyers and May Kennedy, who were in the company of George Wilson. All were fined $5 and costs in police court this morning.

A dog-fight which terminated in a regular fight of the owners was aired in police court this morning. Those before the mayor were Pete Chima, Joe Chima and Lem Dodson. The arguments grew out of the fight of the dogs and resulted in an assault case. The decision of the mayor was reserved until Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

John Barnes, who gave his residence as Fairfax, O., was fined $50 and costs on a vagrancy charge this morning. He is only 28 years and stated his registration papers were at his home.

MEXICAN CRISIS OVER OIL TAXES HAS BEEN AVERTED

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 17.—The threatened crisis in the relations of Mexico with the entente allies and the United States apparently has been averted by a modification of the new Mexican oil tax decree by President Carranza.

It was learned today that on August 12 Carranza in effect cancelled provisions of the decree of July 31 under which undeveloped oil lands might be seized by the Mexican government upon failure of their owners to make declarations and submit to what they regarded as excessive taxation.

POPULARITY CONTEST IN CONNECTION WITH WOODMAN CARNIVAL

The Woodmen of the World are having a big Woodmen carnival, the proceeds from a voting contest to be used for a patriotic fund. The contest started August 16 and will close Wednesday, August 28, at the carnival grounds. There are three contests—a young woman's popularity contest for a diamond ring; a baby's diamond ring contest, and the boys' bicycle contest. A number of contestants have been entered in all, with Miss Edith Mason leading the young women; baby Marie Corder, the children, and Raymond Wilson, the boys.

FAREWELL PARTY AT CITY HOSPITAL FOR DR. ESSINGTON

As a farewell event honoring Dr. U. K. Essington, who as member of the staff has long been associated with the City hospital, the nurses at the hospital entertained Friday evening with a charming party.

The affair was planned as a surprise to Dr. and Mrs. Essington, as Dr. Essington leaves soon to take up his duties as captain in the medical department of the U. S. army. Dr. Essington attended last night at the hospital in his uniform.

The lawn surrounding the hospital was arranged with a profusion of American flags and was lighted with Japanese lanterns. During the evening violin numbers were given by Miss Martha Flurschutz and Mr. Frank Strear sang several numbers. The nurses presented Dr. Essington with a toilet traveling set and bouquet, the presentation talk being made by Miss Louise Wycoff.

Dr. Homer J. Davis, as chief of staff made a short talk telling of the splendid work of Dr. Essington at the hospital and the esteem in which he was held. He also expressed the regret of the entire assemblage at the loss of Dr. Essington from the ranks of the co-workers.

Following the addresses an informal social hour was greatly enjoyed by about thirty-five guests who included the doctors, board members and the staff physicians and their wives.

Goose Nest in a Pulpit.

"Sometimes in remote places like South Wales," wrote Doctor Hardman in a work of his on church lore, "at the end of the last century (the eighteenth century is meant) the preacher met with unexpected difficulties. At one country church a goose had made her nest in the pulpit and could not be disturbed. In another the roof was defective and let through the rain, and the sermon was given by the parson under the shelter of an umbrella held over his head by the sexton."—Cardiff Western Mail.

FRENCH TROOPS ADVANCE TODAY IN LOCAL ATTACK

(Associated Press Telegram)
With the French Army in France, Aug. 17.—French troops this morning carried out a local attack in the region of Autrechtes about 10 miles northwest of Soissons, and captured the plateau north of Autrechtes village. This gives them command of the region extending northward, south of the Oise river.

Local actions elsewhere resulted in the further tightening of the grip of the allies upon the approaches to the south. The Germans are intensifying their artillery fire in that region, with no other effect than to slow-up the allied advance.

NOW 1,450,000

General March announced that Major General Henry B. McCain, adjutant-general, as a reward for efficient work in that office, had been assigned to command the 12th division now being organized at Camp Devens, Mass.

Brigadier General Peter C. Harris will be made acting adjutant general. He has been responsible for a great reduction in paper work in the department, including the abolishment of the old muster-rolls which tended to cut away unnecessary red-tape.

Announcement was made that Major General George B. Duncan, one of the first American officers to win the French war cross for distinguished gallantry in action, was being sent home for a rest. General March said the case was typical and showed the tremendous strain under which both officers and men work at the front. He indicated that a number of cases similar to that of General Duncan would follow.

Answering a question, General March said the losses of the 110th regiment (Pennsylvania troops) of the 28th division, probably were proportionate to the heavy fighting in which that division has been engaged. He gave no figures but pointed out that the 28th division had held the American center during the crossing of the Ourcq and was again in line along the Vesle where further sharp fighting had occurred.

On the Vesle front where the American troops are in line only artillery fire and raids have been reported. General March said he read a French divisional order paying high tribute to the valor and efficiency of the second artillery brigade of the second American division which aided the 12th French infantry in two days of fierce fighting at Chateau-Thierry.

As to the location of other divisions, General March said the 80th division (Pennsylvania and Virginia troops) was training with the British in Flanders; that the 88th (North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois troops) was in process of embarkation, and that the 82nd (Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee troops) was in line north of Toul, where it arrived early in July. Reports do not show that the 82nd division, he said, has yet been engaged.

GENERAL MARCH TELLS SENATORS OF MEN NOW UNDER ARMS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 17.—General March at his conference today with the state military committee, told the senators that the American army now under arms numbers slightly more than 3,000,000 men, with 1,450,000 men in France or on the way, and approximately 1,550,000 in cantonments at home.

Senators also were informed that the Russian situation is very bad, because of the general complexity of affairs there. They were given to understand that there was not much chance of establishing a real offensive on the eastern front because of the great number of men that would be required.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Announcement was made also that Colonel John W. Heavy had been appointed head of the militia bureau, succeeding Major General Jesse McCarter, who has taken command of the new division being formed at Camp Meade, Md. A list of new Major and Brigadier Generals is about ready for transmission to the senate. General March said and most of the other division commanders will be found in that list.

GERMANY MAKES CONCESSIONS TO AUSTRIA FOR HELP

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Aug. 17.—Germany has made concessions to Austria on the Polish question in consequence of the strong stand taken by Emperor Charles and the Austro-Hungarian government, according to information received by the correspondent of the Daily Mail at The Hague to which the Mail gives much prominence.

It is possible there will be no personal union of the crowns of Poland and Austria but the king of Poland is certain to be an Austrian arch-duke, says the correspondent, who adds that the discussion at German main headquarters had the following basis:

The Germans demanded that Austria send to the western front from ten to fifteen divisions of picked troops, confining themselves to the defensive on the Italian front.

Emperor Charles and his advisers make the counter demands that Germany make further declarations regarding Belgium, guaranteeing evacuation, restoration and an indemnity, make a powerful movement in the direction of peace and that the Polish question be solved in a manner favorable to Austrian wishes.

The advisers of the Austrian emperor, it is declared, emphasized that the opposition of Austrian military and public opinion to the transfer of troops to the western front was universal. This opposition could only be quieted if the government was assured of Polish support, which could be obtained by securing from Germany concessions on the account of Poland and if the public could be shown the German government had been influenced in the direction of another strong effort to obtain peace. Short of this Austria would not send troops to the western front.

EACH TOWNSHIP TO BE ASKED TO ASSIST IN WORK

The food committee of the council of national defense had the privilege and pleasure of preparing the lunch boxes on both Wednesday and Thursday for the boys who were called. Licking township assisted the local committee on Wednesday, and on Thursday the food was wholly donated by Grange township. It is the intent of the food committee to ask each township in turn to assist and the establishment of a motor truck, with Miss Martha Wright as chairman, will facilitate the work in distant townships. Mrs. Henry Fleck is the county chairman.

NEWSPAPERS INDISPENSABLE.

A draft board at Waterloo, Iowa, issued an edict that newspaper reporters to appear before its august presence, and show why they should not engage in an essential occupation or be subject to draft. The board quickly disavowed the order, which appeared to have been due to a clerical error.

Secretary Baker took occasion to make it clear that news collecting is regarded as indispensable work. But a man of draft age could not claim he was indispensable, if there were older men who could take his place. If there is anyone who thinks reporters are idlers under the "work or fight" rule, he should follow them on those frequent days when their coat tails stick out behind, as they attempt to cover half a dozen events simultaneously miles apart.

Newspaper reporters are no dodgers of fighting or any other kind of duty. Whatever army services the government calls them to undertake, will be accepted very cheerfully.

It was of course to be expected that the Washington authorities would rule newspapers work as "essential." No war could be fought without the co-operation of the newspapers, to arouse sentiment, educate the people to the issues involved, and persuade them to give their co-operation in all war efforts.

War has left its mark in the newspaper offices. Many thousands of former rumor chasers are now displaying the same speed in the pursuit of the spiked helmeted Boche. Their places are often taken by older men, who had fancied they had got beyond the cub reporter's routine. The newspaper reported is an alert and resourceful fellow. He will get after the Hun with a lot of vigor and fight with his head as well as his gun.

BAKERIES AND FOOD.

Reports are noted in the newspapers of prosecution of a good many bakeries for violation of the food regulations. The principal complaint is that they are not using the proper proportion of substitutes for wheat flour.

It will impress a good many people that the bakeries of the country have not lived up to the food program as well as the hotels. The hotels were slow to take up the idea of wheat saving, but they finally responded very loyally. They have used war substitutes very generally, and it has not hurt their business a bit. But in many towns when you go to a bakery and ask for bread, you are given white loaves in which there are only about 10 per cent substitutes.

The bakery trade is of course a hard one to regulate. A host of little producers are turning out loaves in small quantities. Many of them would say they would lose their trade altogether if they made much alteration in the character of their product. Yet the amount of bread sold through bakeries is enormous today. If wheat flour is wasted by them, the loss will be tremendous. No doubt the great majority of the bakers are patriotic and want to co-operate. But if one or two keep on in the old way, using white flour as usual, it spoils trade for all the others who are more conscientious and would be glad to follow the food regulations.

The thing to do is for all bakers to get together and agree to produce bread of a certain uniform composition, following the suggestions of the food administration. Those who won't co-operate should be handed over to the government authorities for further action. If everyone gets out a product of uniform composition, no one will suffer any loss of trade.

Another pull, altogether now, will make the War Savings Stamp campaign a success. Licking county people have to date bought $846,519 worth of W. S. S. There remains $389,661 worth to buy in order to put old Licking "over the top."

Just which one of his six sons the Kaiser had selected to be king of America has not been disclosed.

The Kaiser's six sons are all in the war safe in the rear lines. Colonel Roosevelt's four sons all went into service. Two have been wounded and one occupies a heroic grave.

SCIENTIFIC SAVING.

(Saturday Evening Post.)
One day last winter an acquaintance confessed that though he was doing a lot of savings he did not seem at the end of the month to have any more money than before. We have since discovered a good many people in the same dilemma. You cut out meat except two meals a week. You forgo early new potatoes when good old potatoes can be had for a quarter the price. You eat canned peas until the product of near-by gardens become plentiful. Your wife evelves a summer wardrobe for half what she spent last year. You got a virtuous impression of economizing at a great rate. But when you balance the books the net result is disappointing.

That we know from personal observation, is a tolerably common experience.

You must save scientifically, which means with exact knowledge of what you are doing. A good way to accomplish that is to convert every theoretical saving—immediately and on the spot—into a government War Savings Stamp.

A more general impression that you are economizing is apt to be a sure and delusion, because it gives you an easy conscience when you let go a little here and there; and it does not take many lettings-go to douse the halo of the meatless days.

Those million American boys in France would indefinitely better have stayed at home than to have gone over there with a mere general impression that they were going to lick the Kaiser. Every motion they make is carefully thought out and in rigorous subordination to a scientific plan. They had to be drilled for months so that their general intentions would serve a scientific plan. You are not supporting them adequately if you are going on mere good intentions and general impressions.

Do it on a thought-out plan, with definite knowledge of what you are about. Catch the saving right at the moment by buying a thrifty stamp. Set aside a definite part of your income for War Savings Stamps and Liberty Bonds. The war requires that you, too, meet it scientifically.

WHEN IT DOES GET HOT.

(Louisville Courier Journal.)
The street temperature, 112 degrees in the shade, recorded Monday afternoon, placed Louisville in the list of the hottest places on earth. Possibly it was hotter in Death Valley. Maybe it was warmer in Muscat. The reputation of Baghdad is such that it would be safe to venture that it often is as hot in Baghdad as it can get in Louisville, but it is said that the humidity is not as high in Baghdad as it often is in the Ohio valley, and the humidity these last few boiling days has been the worst of the punishment.

When it does get hot in this part of the world it does so with thoroughness that is masterful. Louisvillians who sweater in stuffy apartments often are annoyed by their country friends who assure them, with cherry brutality, that in the country "we sleep under blankets every night." Nobody slept under blankets Monday night. If anyone says he did question his veracity henceforth. Set him down as a bragging classmate with the liar of Sefta and with the country colonist in Jefferson county who says he never has seen a mosquito upon his demesne. The mercury stood above 90 after dark, even in the country, Monday night. While the shades of night were falling the mercury remained unresponsive to the downward movement.

There is one great consolation when it is hot in Louisville. It will not remain so indefinitely. It is said that the white man in the tropics bears the heat well until he realizes that it will be as hot next week, and next month, and next year, as it has been. It is then that his spirit breaks. There is always the rain and falling temperature, to look forward to when it is as hot in Louisville as it is in Muscat or Baghdad. Were it otherwise suicides would be more numerous than heat prostrations.

NO DIVIDED COUNSELS AT WASHINGTON.

(New York Independent and Harper's Weekly.)
The head-headed voter has a specific question to answer to himself as the fall elections come on. Should he on this particular occasion support the Democratic party, or should he lend his aid to the Republican opposition? We speak now of the decision to be made by the head-headed voter instead of calling him according to precedent the "conscientious voter." For we assume that nearly all American citizens who are qualified to vote will be conscientious voters this time. America is loyal, patriotic and determined to win the war. A splendid moral enthusiasm has for the time being subordinated the less worthy considerations that commonly play their part in political campaigns. Unfortunately, however, wisdom is not always to be counted on in the behavior of the conscientious man. Quite honestly he may arrive at decisions which on practical grounds prove to be unfortunate.

The Republican party, as shrewd political observers acknowledge, is in a difficult position. Loyal it must be, and for practical purposes loyalty means backing up a Democratic Administration in its efforts to win the war. As a strategic procedure, not to speak of any higher reasons, the Republican party can attack the Democratic Administration on two grounds only. If the Administration is open to criticism as negligent or inefficient in the conduct of the war, the Republican party may and should expose the failure and demand an opportunity to remonstrate its own superior ability. On matters of purely domestic concern, also, the Republican party may rightly press its own policies and ask the confidence of the people. The facts, however, are that by the general judgment of the American people and of the allies in France and Great Britain, the Democratic Administration, by no means faultless and with not a few mistakes to own up to, has achieved unprecedented results since our declaration of war against the Imperial German Government. By comparison with positive attainment the errors and the failures sink into comparative insignificance. The Republican party will not find it easy to convince the people that it would do better if it could be placed in power now.

Yet more difficult would be the task of convincing a sober judgment that anything would be gained by handing over to the Republican party that partial power which it is possible to transfer at the elections this fall, and which at the utmost would consist in Republican supremacy in Congress backed by Republican administrations in states electing governors and legislatures. American experience of divided political responsibility has never been happy. A Democratic Congress, tending with a Democratic Congress, has never been, even in times of peace, an effective disposition of political forces. Waste and inefficiency have usually resulted from it, and it is not possible to imagine that a great war in its critical stages could be more effectively waged if energies and responsibilities should be so distributed. We yield to no one in profound respect for the wisdom and the patriotism of men like Colonel Roosevelt, Mr. Taft and Mr. Root. But when they say the voters of America ought this fall to return a Republican Congress, and argue that the time has come to impose upon Mr. Wilson's administration the fearless inquisition and the practical legislative check of an opposition political majority, we are unconvinced. Irresponsible power is indeed a serious matter and no human being is infallible. But a Congressional minority is quite competent to ask questions, to bring mistakes into the light of publicity and to register protests. It is not necessary for the preservation of our liberties to create the certainty that a Republican Congress would itself make lamentable and possibly well nigh fatal errors in its desire to play a decisive part in the conduct of the war at a time and under circumstances when it could not be, as the Democratic party is now, wholly responsible for success or failure. In our judgment hard-headedness demands that this responsibility should not be destroyed. It is, we think, the plain dictate of common sense that the people should return a Democratic majority to Congress and assure to President Wilson the support of a Democratic law-making power.

As for questions of domestic policy, there are important but not now imperative. This is the time to open up the whole future policy of the United States on the ownership and operation of railroads, telegraphs, telephones and express service, on the tariff after the war, on labor legislation and on immigration. The war must be won first. This one thing we do, is the motto of common sense until the Hun is defeated.

What is the implication of this point of view as it concerns the action of the individual voter? How should the voter proceed? Republican voter approach this fall his individual problem of deciding which of 2 or more candidates for Congress he should vote for? Each American voter, whether Republican or Democrat, Progressive, Socialist, or what not, ought to make certain in the first place that the congressional candidate for whom he will cast his vote is a good American. He should make sure that his candidate believes to the full in the vigorous and unflinching prosecution of America's purpose in the war until it is finally and completely achieved. He should be convinced that his candidate is one who will support the President and his Administration without regard to party, in everything that will make for the vigorous and unflinching prosecution of the war. If the voter finds anything to choose between the two or more candidates presented to him for congressional office in these respects, he should shut his eyes resolutely to party labels and distinctions and vote for that candidate who measures up most completely to these standards.

WAR IS THE ISSUE.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
For the third time in as many successive campaigns James M. Cox and Frank B. Willis will face each other in the fight for governor of Ohio this year. Each has defeated the other once. Each by experience knows the prowess of his opponent.

Both the governor and the ex-governor are thoroughly well known in every part of Ohio. There will be no need of introductions this fall. The state knows what kind of governor Mr. Cox is and it knows what kind of governor Mr. Willis was.

Platforms are yet to be drafted, but it is already apparent that the big issue in the campaign for governor will be the war issue as it relates to the government and people of Ohio. Except for this, the questions before the people now are much the same as they were two years ago.

Ohio wants an American victory at arms at the earliest possible moment. It wants to do the most possible to achieve this purpose. It wants at the head of the state government the man who best represents this war spirit of the commonwealth and who can as governor do most to make Ohio a fighting factor in the war.

The prohibition issue will naturally be much discussed, but it will not determine the identity of Ohio's next governor. The governorship is one thing; Ohio's attitude on the liquor issue is another. The attitude of the electors on prohibition will be expressed otherwise than by their choice for governor.

State conventions will be held in two weeks. Platforms will then be adopted, and the parties will have lined up for the campaign. Then tendency in recent years has been toward shorter and shorter campaigns, and this tendency is likely to be emphasized by the fact that the public mind this year is occupied more with war than with politics. This year in particular it would be difficult, even were the effort deemed wise, to interest the people in a protracted fight for state offices.

A full may be expected after the adjournment of the conventions. It will in part reflect the public absorption in the task of winning the war.

STRONG NEVER BLUSTER.

When a man is much in earnest he does not usually shout about it. True earnestness is rather distrustful of noise. The man who means something keeps a stiff upper lip and goes on his way silently. Such silence is dangerous for the opponent or the cause that is to be attacked. A noisy blustering on my may be smiled at; even that which is genuine in his position will probably pass away in vapor; but the silence of grim determination is to be reckoned with and speaks of a force that is growing in secret.

"HUMPTY DUMPTY HAD A GREAT FALL" answered promptly the summons of imperilled civilization.

This is to laugh, as the French say. Lincoln did not take it as an indictment of his course when his political opponents increased their strength in Congress. And Woodrow Wilson will not look upon a Republican House of Representatives as an approval of his efforts to win the war. This is no time to be swapping horses. The Democrats, who began the war, and who have managed it very well, are entitled to that approval which success in any undertaking is supposed to bring to those who hold the posts of responsibility and authority.

A UNIQUE NOMINATION.

(Columbus Dispatch.)
Kansas has again broken into public attention with her unique politics, this time in nominating a man for governor who was not in the state, and who made no campaign, and spent not a cent to win. A year or more ago Henry J. Allen, editor of the Wichita Beacon, volunteered to go to France for the Red Cross. He has since been doing splendid work at the front for the organization, and is now at his post in France. Several weeks ago William Allen White, editor of the Emporia Gazette, wrote an article concerning the unselfish work Allen is doing in France, and closed the article by stating that it was the kind of man Kansas ought to select for governor. Allen's friends took the hint, entered his name in the race, and he was nominated over a field of men who did everything in their power to secure the nomination. Editor White himself admits that when he wrote the complimentary article about Allen and made the suggestion in regard to the governorship, he had no idea that Allen would be entered in the race.

Allen's reply to a letter asking him if he would allow his name to be used in connection with the governorship is also unique. "If you nominate and elect me," he said, "I will accept. But I would not give up this Red Cross commission for any office my state can give me." Some time ago President Wilson said that the people of this country would probably elect men to office this year who made the least effort to obtain office, and it seems his words are already "soming true."

ALL OVER THE WORLD.

(Memphis Commercial-Appel.)
Once it was stated that the sun never set on the British flag. One year after America is in the war the sun cannot set upon the American soldiers. They are in France and they are in Germany, across the border in Alsace. They are in Italy. American soldiers are in Archangel, Russia, up under the Arctic Circle. They are also in Vladivostok.

American soldiers are in the Philippines, Hawaii and Samoa. American soldiers are in Panama and one of the Central American republics. They are in Haiti and San Domingo. When the American soldiers landed in Vladivostok and Archangel they were in the same empire, but they were 8,000 miles apart.

This gives you some idea of the colossal size of Russia. The Arctic Circle runs a little north of Archangel. Archangel is on an arm of the White Sea, and, before the outbreak of the present war, was thought to be frozen over the entire year. There is a railroad running direct down through Russia to Moscow.

After the outbreak of the war the Russians attempted to build another railroad to an open port on the Arctic Ocean. This port is called Kola, and is on the year round.

Great things may come of the establishment of the American army at Archangel. The people of North Russia are not tainted with Bolshevism. They are loyal Russians and, if properly supported, they will rally to the allies.

meatless week will not astound Germany. Meatlessness is like drying, according to Artemus Ward, "nothing when you get used to it."—Brooklyn Eagle.

With Self Forgiven. Greatness is achieved, not by direct and eager chase, but while we are looking for something else. It is the little things we get by not endeavor. The great things come to us as it were around a corner. We never become beautiful, or eloquent, or popular, or happy, or intellectual, or even good, by hard labor. Whatever we get of such things will come to us when we are most self-forgetful, and most absorbed in the service of our kind.—Edward Judson.

FLYING CIRCUS TO GIVE EXHIBITION AT CLEVELAND SUNDAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, Aug. 17.—Four of the nine American and British aviators scheduled to give exhibition flights over Cleveland arrived at the Wilcox club, five miles east of here at noon today. Seven machines left Columbus at 9 a. m. but three were forced to land along the route because of engine trouble. The other two machines remained in Columbus until later in the day for the same reason.

MECHANICAL ACCIDENTS.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, Aug. 17.—Mechanical accidents sustained during yesterday's flights in Columbus caused a complete rearrangement of the program of the "flying circus" of American and British military aviators here. The fliers were scheduled to give four exhibitions here—two today and two tomorrow—but late last night news was received that the accidents would cause a delay and there will be no flying until tomorrow.

The mishap also caused postponement of the public reception planned for the birdmen by the city at noon, but the aviators will be guests of the city at dinner tonight.

Received at Newark, Ohio, Aug. 17th, 1918.
Manager George Fenberg,
Auditorium Theatre,
Newark, Ohio.

Just have heard through Cleveland First National Exchange of the failure of the wonderful feature, "My Four Years in Germany," to arrive for showing yesterday in Newark, and wishing all in Newark to see Ambassador Gerard's story of why we are in this war, I am asking you as a favor to arrange to show it all day Sunday, as I know the general public could attend. By doing this, you are doing a great favor, as we consider "My Four Years in Germany" the greatest propaganda feature ever screened. Committee on Public Information.
TO MY FRIENDS AND PUBLIC: George Creel, Chairman.
"MY FOUR YEARS IN GERMANY" will be shown all day tomorrow.
The program arranged for Sunday will be seen Monday and Tuesday, with the exception of George Gaunter, who will be heard in songs.
As this is very short advertising, you will do me a favor to tell all your friends that "MY FOUR YEARS IN GERMANY" will be shown positively TODAY and ALL DAY SUNDAY.

AMUSEMENTS

GRAND.
"The Gun Woman."
To citizens of La Mesa the announcement that the picture known as the Bostonian was none other than a famous Wells Fargo detective, came like a bolt out of a clear sky. Being as the most ignorant and brainless type of tenderfoot, this keen and brainy detective permitted himself to be held up by the elusive stage-coach bandit known as "The Collector." By his eccentric actions following the hold-up, the Bostonian won the admiration of all the citizens of La Mesa. There he gained the friendship of "The Tigris," proprietress of "The Devil's Kitchen," gambling hell. Patiently he waited for developments. They came. "The Collector" betrayed the love of "The Tigris." The latter informed the detective that her lover and "The Collector" were the same, and offered to assist in the bandit's capture when the Bostonian in turn disclosed the fact that he, himself, was an official of the Wells Fargo secret service. The love of "The Collector" at Bravos followed, and the Bostonian is no longer regarded as a boob. Mystery, romance, redemption of a woman's soul, and thrill mark the new Triangle screen drama, "The Gun Woman," to be shown at the Grand Theatre on Sunday.

AUDITORIUM.
"My Four Years in Germany" Tonight.
Manager Fenberg sure had his troubles yesterday and had to disappoint hundreds owing to the failure of his feature, "My Four Years in Germany," to arrive. The picture, which is a real feature, that the government is asking all the theatres to show to the public. The picture played the Jefferson theatre Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at Dayton, and the manager at that point had instructions to ship the film to Manager Fenberg, Newark, but instead sent it to Columbus, this perhaps due to bad shipping connections being consequences of her numerous flirtations, is cold, unscrupulous and utterly selfish. Her husband loves Emily Madden (Mildred Manning), who is his somewhat more than a friend, but he is unable to get a divorce because there are absolutely no statutory grounds. Caroline discovers her husband's affair and tells him they will live apart. She goes abroad and meets a young artist (Victor Sutherland), whose wife, Hildegard (Catherine Tower) runs a model tenement in New York and by her newspaper writings is trying to uplift the condition of the poor, and pay for her husband's studies. Caroline flirts with him, and even goes to Italy with him on a platonic basis. Hildegard writes him to return, and Caroline decides to return also. Meanwhile Emily has fallen in love with a young writer (Paul Panzer), a friend of Hildegard's and breaks with Knollys. Caroline returns and tries to smuggle some jewels. Emily, who is sent to search her, discovering who she is, saves her. Caroline, following up her flirtation with the artist, meets his wife. She comes to the tenement to dine with them and there she meets Emily. Knollys forces Caroline to apologize by threatening a sensational divorce. When she leaves, however, she regrets that she "cannot also stop the rumors." Emily confesses, and the two couples find their happiness. It is so well done that we can almost forgive the fact that Caroline goes unpunished. "The Unchastened Woman" then is a brilliant, clever creature, at first evoking a sort of admiration, but losing sympathy because of her deliberate and between Hamilton and Newark. Manager Fenberg was wired to be on the watch for films at Columbus and had a man waiting there all day, but they did not arrive at that point until late last evening, and the picture will be shown at the Auditorium all day.

Mgr. Fenberg does not know whether the manager at Hamilton is pro-German or not, but he had instructions to ship films at Thursday evening, but instead didn't do so until Friday morning. The picture, which is a real feature, must be seen. Of course it was bad that the hundreds who were at the theatre expecting to see the film were disappointed, but it's through the fault of the local manager as he tried hard to get some sort of a show, but owing to the late arrival of the picture, he had no choice but to wait until the picture could supply him with photographs.

"The Unchastened Woman."
The Auditorium theatre tomorrow offers an exceptionally strong program in "The Unchastened Woman" with Grace Valentine, a two-reel comedy, and "The Gun Woman," a picture of a woman who will sing several popular songs.

In "The Unchastened Woman," the theme of this picture has already been before the public, and the title of "The Unchastened Woman" will be familiar to many of our audience. While this story has been made famous in book form and by presentation on the spoken stage, it remains the screen to realize its fullest possibilities. Like other themes of lasting interest it passes through various phases, and its most adequate dramatic expression on the "silent" but eloquent stage. It is not merely a type story, but it strikes a new note and compels interest.

The picture presents an epitome of modern city life, showing the hearts of both rich and poor, the portrayal of whose life shows the effects of environment on character. We are transported to the clearest dwelling of a rich and idle lady, now to the humble home of an energetic woman working to relieve the needy and those suffering from conditions of a complex life, as well as to the poverty and misery of a poor workingman's home. The contrast is strongest when the haughty lady condescends to visit the tenement, where in a scene of momentous import she suffers humiliation and defeat. The story chiefly concerns itself with the study of the "unchastened woman," a woman whose breath of life is stirring. Caroline Knollys, the Valentine, woman whom wealth and social position protect from the selfish cruelty and treachery. Undoubtedly this type of woman exists in the heart of certain classes of modern society. The author, Louis K. Anspacher, has set himself the task of satirizing this type of womanhood, revealing the workings of her mind with the utmost analytical skill and deep understanding. The result is a brilliant analysis and a scathing criticism of this character, in a portrayal of the life of such a woman and the nervous consequences of her actions.

Grace Valentine is the moving spirit of the play. The author has created a character and Mrs. Valentine lives it. "The Unchastened Woman" has been launched as a picture, and it is a picture of the startling toll of life and limb through thoughtlessness on our streets and open roads.

"From one day's issues of the newspapers of only twenty cities, we clipped these horrible headlines," says a bulletin recently issued from the police department. "Hundreds of people maimed and killed in one day through automobile accidents." Traffic measures will be taken to rouse both the pedestrians and motorists to a full appreciation of their obligations to themselves and the nation, when on the public highways.

"Our judges are agreed that the time has come when all sentences must be imposed if citizens do not immediately take it upon themselves to correct the situation. Fines do not effect a permanent cure."
To help arouse the community to its patriotic duty, Mr. Sheridan has arranged with Mr. Fenberg of the Auditorium Theatre to show next Tuesday in connection with his regular program "Careless America." This film is being distributed through the courtesy of H. S. First, president of the Vitaphone Trust, Lubber Co. an active worker in the safety first propaganda.

GRACE VALENTINE in "THE UNCHASTENED WOMAN" A RIALTO DE LUXE PRODUCTION

She is almost impossible of analysis. The product of our modern civilization, and some would say the victim of too much freedom. Any way, she is one type of the emancipated woman—and a dangerous type. Somewhat in advance of the vampire, but equally as potent. In fact, to paraphrase Kipling, we might say: "The Unchastened Woman and the snaky lady are sisters under the skin." She is a curious mixture of Washington Square and Votes for Women and the Eternal Eve, as bizarre as a Futurist painting—and equally as understandable. Brilliant and witty, alluring, cunning and abnormally selfish, she seems to think she can use and abuse people very much as she pleases. She is married, but she laughs at conventions. But through it all, she remains chaste to reveal in the world's verdict. But through it all, she remains chaste in body but quite the reverse in spirit and soul. Her one redeeming grace is her sense of humor—she laughs at everyone, including herself. She is cruel and equally gentle—when it serves her purpose. One moment a purring lounge-cat, the next its tigerish-feline ancestor. But beneath this texture of modernism she is undeniably womanly. We discover that at a time when she finds that "the sauce for the goose can do for the gander." But she is beyond us, so we will have to do as Dr. Anspacher, the author, suggests: "LET THE CURTAIN FALL ON HER UNCHANGED, UNWHIPPED, JUST AS GOOD AS WE HUNG UP HER IN THE BEGINNING—CHASTE IN BODY, BUT UNCHASTED IN SPIRIT AND SOUL."

He was at Camp Sherman nearly nine months, and landed in France just one week later than his brother Hollie. Here is a letter from Hollie Brown, dated "Somewhere in France, July 14, 1918."

"I received your letter written June 12, this week. It was an interesting letter, and am always looking for the next. I have been lucky by getting a letter every time our mail comes in. Also, received a letter from Anna Davidson, written just after she came home from Pataskala. I received your two boxes before we left Camp Merritt and made short work of them. We have the best of eats here and it is American grub, and we generally get second helping at meals. Yesterday we took a march of about 14 miles and our kitchen was taken along. For dinner we had beans, tomatoes, coffee, bread and applebutter, and it was a warm dinner.

"We can buy all kinds of nuts, but very little candy. I have not received any packages over here and believe it best not to send any. We have been paid and have no need for more money. Have never received your money order, but may later. This is a holiday in France and we can go and visit other camps today, so Stanley Miller and I are going out for a walk. We were out to the river for a bath and swim this morning. We are together most every Sunday.

"Just had our Sunday dinner: Mashed potatoes, meat, gravy, corn-bread, coffee—and all we wanted. This afternoon there is a baseball game in one town and in another races—harnessing mules, etc. So we have our choice of the two. We get new soft hats and wrapped leggings soon; they are quite nobby. There is an old man who when there is any news, comes out on the streets with drum and then announces the news to the people, and the boys said he told them Germany was ready for peace at any price. We can hear of nothing but battles won along the front by allies. We get the New York Herald as daily paper, and it has lots of news from the states. I have been made a first-class private—which I deem is pretty good for the short time in army and the number of old ones.

"How do you like my writing paper? It was the only kind I could get. It seems rather funny to think when it is 2 p. m. over here you folks are just getting up. Some of our weakest and unfit were transferred, and we have a bunch of new men and they are a little slow. I never received the pictures which you mailed; must be lost in the mails. I can see everything just as plain in Pataskala—bet the streets are dusty without the oil. We expect to be home by Christmas. One major has gone so far as to say Thanksgiving. We see German prisoners often and they are generally in groups doing some kind of work and they seem contented. The people state they are glad to be prisoners as they get more to eat and not used a terrible.

"What do you hear about election this fall? I suppose Bert Weakley has made his announcement as a candidate. It is going to be an easy race for him as he is so well-known in the county. I am still feeling tip-top and like the work better as we pick it up. Don't you worry; am in no danger whatever.

"Hollie M. Brown, Co. H, 322nd Infantry, A. P. O. 762, American Expeditionary Forces."

To the voters of Licking County, Ohio:

As it will be impossible for me to see each voter and thank him personally, I will take this method of expressing my appreciation for the support given me at the nomination on August 13.

Yours truly,
CLYDE W. IRWIN,
Democratic nominee for county surveyor.

ARMY CHOICE FOR CHINESE PRESIDENCY

Hou Shih-Chang, formerly was vice prime minister of China. He has been selected by the army party as candidate for the presidency. He is understood to be acceptable to the southern provinces. It is expected that there will be an interesting fight this year both for the presidency and vice presidency. Hou Shih-Chang was prominent during the latter days of the monarch and was one of the leaders during the negotiations preliminary to the settlement between China, Japan and Russia after the Russo-Japanese war.

WAR WORKMEN OUT.
Marion, O., Aug. 17.—From 260 to 250 molders, coremakers and foundry men employed in six industrial plants engaged in war contract work, walked out yesterday. The men want 10 hours' pay for nine hours' work, while the employes insist on 10 hours' work. The strikers were paid 45 to 57 cents an hour and some of the plants pay war bonuses of 10 per cent.

SON OF ROUMANIA BUT IS PROUD TO FIGHT FOR THE U. S.

Editor of the Advocate: A few days ago I was agreeably surprised to find the "Little token," as you term it in my mail, and as soon as I realized what the spirit behind the little medal was, I made up my mind to do all in my power to be a worthy soldier, so as not to cast reflections on those who can not come with me on my little trip to France. I shall take the medal over with me and trust that the good Lord will let me carry it back to Newark when the war is over and the boys come marching home.

I was born in Roumania but have lived in the United States since I was seventeen year old. I am glad that I am offered the chance to go and fight for this country which is without a doubt the best country on earth.

I am proud to say that I am a citizen of the most powerful and most generous country on earth, and should I not return I'll be satisfied that it is no fault of leadership or poor equipment. Should I return crippled or in broken health I know I'll have no worries as old Uncle Sam will see that I'll not starve or have to sell pencils on a street corner as so many crippled war veterans of European nations have to. I had an uncle who served ten years in the army in the old country. Four of these ten years were during war. After he had fought and bled for his country and was unable to support himself he was discharged from the army and came home to his people a subject of charity.

Thanking the people of Licking county, I am yours for an early peace and in hopes that I may be one of the great American army that sees the fall of Berlin.

John Cicur.
P. S.—Am enclosing a picture and hope you will find space in one of your columns for it.

Letter From Raymond Bash.
Raymond Bash was one of the first Granville boys to offer his services in the present world war, having joined the Canadian forces and has seen some hard service. This letter was received by Donald Young last week:

France, July 15, '18.

Dear Don:

A few lines letting you know that I have received the Times that were sent by you and many thanks for same, as I certainly do appreciate my home town paper.

I presume you all had a very fine Fourth and I would have certainly been glad to have been there and take part in it. That picture of Prospect street did surely look fine. It sort of made me feel homesick. No doubt I will see a lot of changes when I come back to good old Granville.

We came out of the trenches in time to celebrate Dominion Day July the 1st and went to the Divisional post where we had a very good time. And about the Fourth on this side: it was spent very quietly except for the Americans. They certainly had a fine time in Paris and England by the way the papers look.

It has been a long time since I have seen any Yanks on this side of the fishing pond. Sometime ago I was a very short distance from the 16th Inf., but was unable to get there to see any of the boys owing to expecting German's advance, of which he tried to do but lost heavily. I expect to be going to England on fourteen days leave shortly and I am looking forward to meeting Oscar Shute there or in Scotland and I am certain of having a fine time, for there is a lot of difference between England and France.

In England the houses are built of brick and they are in a straight row. Very few of them have any lawns about because they are all built in one and right out on the edge of the sidewalk. The country in England is very beautiful for scenery and they certainly have good roads.

In France it is a lot different. The roads are very rough except those that are built by the Army and they being in the battle area are used for transportation of heavy guns, etc. The houses are built of square blocks of chalk, some have red tile roofs and the others being thatched roofs. The only thing that troubles me and here is when I get can't tell whether they say to stick to talking to a pretty French girl I around or not. It is as my French is not very good. One thing that I forgot to mention those houses. The front of the house is facing the barn and the back of the house is facing the street.

The towns and cities that are in the firing line and battle area are nothing but a mass of ruins; nothing left except odd corners of buildings here and there.

I would like to write and tell you of my experience in France and Belgium but it would take too long. Although I have had some narrow escapes, last month I was wounded in the side of the neck by shrapnel but all is O. K. now.

Don, I have said about enough for this time. Hoping that the war will be over and that I will be with you to celebrate the next Fourth. Will now close hoping that these lines will find you in good health.

Ray Bash.

Medal and Letter Appreciated.
Editor of The Advocate—I received a few days ago the service medal, sent me by you and the people of old Licking county, and I wish to express my appreciation to all concerned; also, for the letter of kind words and encouragement. It certainly does us good to know that the folks back home are all back of us and all doing their bit in the great world-struggle, so when the time comes for us to go over there it will be the assurance that our friends and loved ones at home are with us in thought and prayer that will inspire us on to the victory which we are going to win. Thanking you again, I beg to remain, very cordially yours, stage success. If you love thrills of a crook play, then you must see Miss Talbridge in the triumph of her career, also see a play with a surprising physiological twist, also a clever east which includes Frank Mills and Eugene O'Brien, then we say, see "De Luxe Annie" Tuesday and Wednesday next.

ALHAMBRA.
Sunday.
Mary Miles Minter, loveliest young girl star of the motion picture stage, has a first rate acting role in her new American-Mutual production, "The Ghost of Rosy Taylor," which is a photoplay version of Josephine Baker's curving story printed under the same title some months ago in the Saturday Evening Post. Miss Minter is just as Rhoda Kildridge Saylor, daughter of an American recluse in Paris who dies as the play opens, leaving Rhoda to make her way back home as best she may. Destitute in New York Rhoda goes to work as a charwoman under a supposition by her employer that she is Rosy Taylor, a negress who has been recommended but also has since died. There are some excellent comedy situations and a very pretty love story with Allan Forrest, Jacques Le Clercq, playing opposite Miss Minter. The piece was directed by Edward Sloman, a master of stagecraft. The cast includes that brilliant actor George Periolato with Helen Howard and Emma Kluge.

Monday and Tuesday.
Miss Theda Bara, the great film star, who will appear in "Under the Yoke" at the Alhambra Monday and Tuesday, had her first experience with an earthquake recently when a seismic disturbance rocked Los Angeles and the surrounding country.

Miss Bara was walking in the garden of her beautiful home in Los Angeles, preparatory to starting out on a "location" when the earthquake occurred. The house rocked, the chimney swayed, and from the interior added feature she heard the crash of falling china and silver. When the shock had subsided the famous actress ran into the house and found that while the damage was comparatively slight, pictures had been shaken awry, china smashed and furniture disarranged.

LYRIC.
Sunday.
Mrs. Vernon Castle in a thrilling fast-action photoplay, "The Great Outdoors from the famous novel by Francis Lynde. The first of the new big picture plays mark a new standard by which feature are to be judged. Mrs. Vernon Castle is beautiful and charming and does her best work in an entirely new sort of Fairbanks role in "Stranded in Arcady in five part. As an extra special for Sunday we have booked Wm. S. Hart in the great western play, "The Man From the West," and as extra added feature a Lyons-Moran Star Comedy, "Whos Baby Are You?"

Coming Sunday, Aug. 25th, America's Serial Supreme, "The Eagle's Eye," by William J. Flynn, recently retired as chief of the U. S. Secret Service. This great picture comes closest to the lives of the American people and touches that phase of the present war which affects every one of Americas hundred millions—saving their lives, their liberty and their pursuit of happiness—in the ceaseless ruthless, treacherous plotting of the Imperial German Government in America. It will be shown at the Lyric next Sunday.

Coming week of September 2—Labor Day—one of the best musical comedy companies on the Sun circuit.

FOUND IN RUX PRISON CAMP.
Findlay, Aug. 17.—William Richardson, aged 28, of Arlington, this county, reported "missing in action" July 18 in France, has been found by the government in a German prison camp. The government has informed the young man's parents.
